Lots of exciting news from our library this month.

TROUBLE IN THE LIBRARY!!

Oh my goodness, when Mrs Wallace Sims came into school on Monday she had a terrible shock. It seems that the Library has its very own Elf and the naughty Elf had opened all the books which had been wrapped up on the book nook display. Please help Mrs Wallace-Sims to spot him everyday. I hope he doesn't get up to much more mischief!

500 WORDS CHALLENGE

Mrs Wallace-Sims was so excited about the number of wonderful stories that you wrote. Some of the stories were entered in the BBC 500 Words Challenge and three winners were announced. Well done to Freya Dawes, Madeleine Gould, Lowen White and Kaden Le Marquand-Coutanche. All the stories are on display on the book nook and the next challenge will be announced soon. Watch this space.....

BOOK CLUB

Toby Wylie's book club has been fantastic! Everyone has had fun, they have been reading "Danny Champion on the World" together. If you want to know more about this, you ask Toby. They book club have also shared lots of their recommendations on the Book Chat Wall and in the Book on the table at the back of the Library.

MICHAEL ROSEN DAY

We celebrated the very first Michael Rosen day on 11 November and some of our children even learned a Michael Rosen poem for the Eisteddfod this year.

DONATIONS

We have had some very generous donations to our library. Thank you so much to the Such family for all the lovely books that they have shared with us. Jay McFarlane has also donated two Beast Quest books to us and they were out on loan before I could blink.

HAPPY READING EVERYONE!
