Topic: The Faces of Jersey

Throughout this topic pupils learn about Jersey history, geography and culture. We find out about key points in Jersey's history when people have emigrated to the island and learn about the diversity of our population. We will be collecting data using geography field work skills on where our school population originated. Please talk to your children about where members of your family were born, and the reasons people have moved to the island. As part of our topic, we will be joined weekly from the Jèrriais team who will be delivering lessons about the island's geography, history and culture dispersed with learning our local language. We will be tasting and evaluating local food such as black butter and Jersey Royals.

English - Writing:

Our first text is 'The King Who Banned the Dark' where we will be writing persuasively! 'After the Fall' is our second text, based on the nursery rhyme of Humpty Dumpty. We will be creating our own stories using other well-known nursery rhymes.

Please don't read the books at home as we will read the ending at the end of this writing journey, so no spoilers. Thank you.

Maths:

Last half term we were focusing on multiplication and division. The best way to support your child at home with this is to practice times tables (especially 2, 3, 5, 10, 4, 8). This half term we are focusing on shape and measurement, and revising key mathematical operations like addition and subtraction.

PE:

- Monday afternoon with Mr Scurr.
- Wednesday morning with a BNP Tennis coach.

PSHE:

This term we are looking at money and work and media literacy and digital resilience.

R.E: This half term our focus is Christianity and the creation story.

Thank you for your ongoing support.
